2. For your information, [redacted] proceeded to Oklahoma City via military air and was supposed to return to Washington, D. C., aboard the Agency C-47 aircraft.

3. The Agency C-47 developed engine trouble and was forced to remain at Scott Field, St. Louis, for two days awaiting repairs. When maintenance was completed the pilot proceeded on to California to deliver classified cargo. Upon return flight to Washington the pilot assumed that [redacted] would have already departed Tinker AFB; this assumption being based on the fact that he was supposed to pick up [redacted] on Friday and due to maintenance delay would not have been able to pick him up until Sunday night.

4. Request authorization for commercial travel due to:

a. The fact that Tinker AFB is now a closed field except for official business and very few transient aircraft go through, and, therefore, it is practically impossible for [redacted] to hitch hike a flight back to Washington.
